

Amal Trivedi, MD, MPH

Investigator, THRIVE COIN

Professor of Health Services, Policy and Practice

Professor of Medicine, Brown University

Amal.Trivedi@va.gov

Amal_Trivedi@brown.edu

I am a general internist and health services researcher. The primary goal of my research is to evaluate the consequences of payment, financing and other health system interventions on the quality and outcomes of health care, particularly for vulnerable populations. Three key areas of focus include: (1) assessing quality of care and racial/ethnic health care disparities in managed care and safety net settings; (2) evaluating the impact of coverage expansions and health insurance benefit design on the use of effective health services and clinical outcomes; and (3) understanding the effects of ongoing health system changes and federal health policies on the Veterans Affairs Health Care System.

THRIVE Goals

Quality

Access

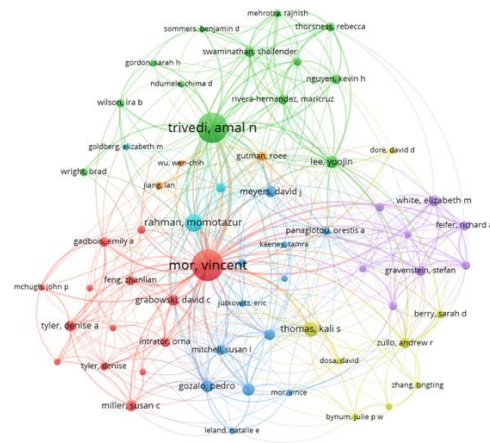

Equity

Quality of care	Health care disparities
Health policy	Medicare
Dual system use

Word cloud from publication titles

Research collaboration map

See Dr. Trivedi's PUBLICATIONS here

See research GRANT INFORMATION here