

Julia Browne, PhD

Clinical Psychologist, THRIVE COIN

Assistant Professor (Research) of Psychiatry and Human Behavior, Brown University

Julia.Browne@va.gov

Julia\_Browne@brown.edu

Ask me about: Schizophrenia, exercise, function

Dr. Browne is a clinical psychologist whose research is aimed at improving quality of life and function in adults with serious mental illness. Her current research projects involve developing and evaluating exercise interventions for people with serious mental illness, particularly older adults and those with schizophrenia. She also provides clinical care to Veterans with serious mental illness in the VA Psychosocial Rehabilitation and Recovery Center. She is a former professional tennis player who now spends her free time trying out other racket sports.

THRIVE Goals

Research

Aging with serious mental illness	Physical activity
Physical function	Treatment engagement

Word cloud from publication titles

Research collaboration map

See Dr. Browne's PUBLICATIONS here

See research GRANT INFORMATION here